BE PREPARED!

Refer to the cabin location map on the back of this page.

What to take to the Cabin:

- The cabin measures 12' X 16'. Four single plywood platform bunks can sleep four adults.
- The cabin is supplied with a wood stove, table, seats, broom, ax, saw, and shovel. All other camping equipment and supplies must be provided by the user, including:
 - Sleeping bag and pad or air mattress
 - Food
 - Cookware, dishes, utensils
 - Cooking stove and fuel
 - Matches, lighters, paper fire starter
 - First aid items
 - Plastic trash bags
 - Jug of water
 - Saw or ax, just in case
 - Firewood
 - Flashlight
 - Lantern and fuel

LANTERNS ARE NO LONGER PROVIDED

A few necessary do's and don'ts:

- Do not leave food or garbage in the cabin at the end of your visit. It might seem helpful to share food with future cabin users, but food (even in airtight containers) attracts bears and small animals. It doesn't take them long to seriously damage a cabin.
Please pack out everything you packed in.
- Do not leave cookware, sleeping pads, or other items in the cabin at the end of your visit.
- Please leave some cut dry wood for the next visitor. A bow saw and ax are provided for your use. Only down or burnt trees may be cut.
- Keep the fire in the stove under control. Do not leave the dampers open when you are not in the cabin.
- Please dispose of all waste water in the toilet. Water dumped outside the cabin is unsightly, unsanitary, and attracts unwanted wildlife. Do not place garbage in the toilet, please pack it out.
- Target practice is not allowed in the Recreation Area except at the Mile 36.5 shooting range. The discharge of weapons is allowed only for the lawful taking of game.
- Stay alert and cautious of any trapping activity in the area. Traps and bait may be located near trails. Children and pets should be monitored closely.
- Do not leave pets unattended inside the cabin at any time.
- Feel free to write your comments in the cabin's logbook. Please report any missing or damaged furnishings or other problems to the Public Information Center in Fairbanks immediately, (907) 451-2705.

Colorado Creek Public Use Cabin

The Colorado Creek Cabin can be reached by the Colorado Creek Winter Trail and the Compeau Trail.

Colorado Creek Winter Trail: Summer use is prohibited due to boggy soils. This multi-use trail is open to snowmobile, skiing, mushing and snowshoe. A loading ramp is available at the trailhead located at mile 31.6 Chena Hot Spring Road. Follow the BLUE trail markers 5.7 miles to the cabin. You will cross Colorado Creek's main channel at mile 2.5. Watch for the turnoff to the cabin at mile 5.4. The cabin is another 0.3 miles from the turnoff.

Compeau Trail: This multi-use trail is open to ATVs, hiking, biking, horseback riding, snowmobile, snowshoe, and skiing. It provides good summer access to the Colorado Creek Public Use Cabin. The Compeau trailhead is located at mile 29.9 Chena Hot Springs Road, on the north side of the road. Follow the blue/black trail markers 18 miles to the cabin. The Compeau Trail makes a turn at mile 10; just past this turn the trail intersects the Little Chena Dozer Line. You can also get to the cabin following the dozer line. After riding 5.5 more miles, the trail intersects a 1950's dozer line; a sign marks this intersection. Follow the steep grade 3/4's of a mile downhill before connecting with the Compeau Trail again. The last 2 miles gradually descend to the cabin.

Public Use Cabin & Ice Fishing Hut Reservation Cancellation & Use Policy

General Information

- Checkout time for cabins is noon. Reservations are valid from noon to noon.
- Checkout time for ice huts is midnight. Reservations are valid from midnight to midnight.
- Cabin and ice hut reservations are issued on a first-come, first-served basis. Reservations may be made no more than seven months in advance for Alaska residents and six months in advance for non-residents.
- The State must receive full payment before a facility will be reserved
- A person cannot use a cabin for more than 5 consecutive nights or one weekend (Fri-Sat) per month. This allows more users to be more fairly accommodated. Exceptions may be granted during low use periods.
- Normal back-country hazards exist and at least one person in your party should be experienced in back-country travel.
- Firewood is hard to find at some facilities, so bring your own or gather dead and down or burnt trees on your way in. Please leave standing dead trees for wildlife habitat.
- If others are using the facility when you arrive, politely inform them that you have a reservation to use the cabin/ice hut. If they refuse to leave, do not start an altercation. Instead, observe as much information about the individuals as you can (e.g., description, age, clothing, etc.) and note the license number of any vehicle parked nearby or at the trailhead. Report the problem as soon as possible to a Park Ranger (451-2695).

Reservations

Reservations can be made online at <http://alaskastateparks.org/> or in person at a DNR Public Information Center or State Park office. Reservation requests are also accepted at the aforementioned offices via fax or mail. Reservations cannot be made by phone.

2. Reservation changes or cancellations must be made at least 48 hours prior to the start of the reservation in order to receive a credit. Requests for credit in these cases must be made within 3 business days of the last day of your reservation. Credits are valid for one year from the date of issuance.

 - ii. Minus 20°F for all other cabins and ice huts.

Access

Access to most of the back-country cabins can be difficult or challenging in summer due to marshy trail conditions and open water crossings. Although the State endeavors to plow the roads and groom trails to the cabins in winter, sudden heavy snows, icy conditions, or overflow may hinder access or make your exit difficult. Be prepared. Take extra food and survival gear just in case. During the two or three weeks of freeze up or break-up, trail or road conditions may make access difficult or impossible. Alaska State Parks may close or restrict access to prevent facility or resource damage during these periods. Check with the Alaska State Parks office for current trail conditions.

Disclaimer & Responsibilities

These cabins and ice fishing huts are isolated and rustic with limited facilities. Back-country travel and movement on frozen waters in Alaska can be hazardous. The State’s renting of a cabin or ice fishing hut in no way certifies the safety of the trails or the ice on the rivers, sloughs, or lakes. It is the renter’s responsibility to determine that weather and ice conditions are safe before venturing to the cabin or hut. The renter agrees to leave the cabin or hut by the time indicated, and to leave the cabin in a clean and orderly condition and may be held responsible for any damage to the cabin, associated facilities, or park resources.
